

7th IAU Annual Conference

November 15-17, 2018
Istanbul, Turkey

Dear colleagues,

On behalf of the organizing committee, it is our great pleasure to invite you to the “7th International Alliance of Urolithiasis (IAU) meeting, which will be held in “Istanbul” on November 15-17, 2018.

Urolithiasis is still an endemic problem at least in some parts of the world and the contemporary management concepts of stone disease have changed significantly as a result of the enormous technological developments in the last 10-15 years. With this meeting we aimed to encourage scientific exchange regarding every aspect of new advances and researches related stone disease. Scientific developments and clinical applications in the pathophysiology, diagnosis, metabolic evaluation, medical and surgical treatment of stone disease will be discussed in detail during the keynote lectures, semi live video presentations, round table discussions and oral/poster presentation sessions. We tried to gather an excellent faculty of international brand name experts to share their valuable experiences.

We sincerely invite you to join us in Istanbul, the only city in the world set on two continents, offering a blend of the East and West, the traditional and the modern. We are confident that participants of 7th IAU meeting will enjoy the fascinating and stimulating city of Istanbul.

We look forward to meeting you and extending the traditionally famed Turkish hospitality in “City Irresistanbul” and believe that “International Alliance of Urolithiasis (IAU) 2018” will be a great success from both scientific and social aspects. So please mark the dates of our meeting into your calender, which will allow us “to meet in a fascinating city where the continents meet”.
