Dr. Gustavo Villoldo
Biography

Dr. Villoldo is the Co-founder and Director of BLATAM (Bladder Cancer in Latin America), an initiative dedicated to gathering epidemiological information in Latin America to achieve an accurate diagnosis of the urothelial cancer situation in the region. BLATAM also focuses on the implementation of prospective studies, interventions, and clinical trials to enhance patient care. Additionally, it promotes continuous education for healthcare professionals and provides comprehensive support to patients affected by this disease.

Dr. Villoldo is an active member of prestigious scientific societies related to urological education, such as the American Urologic Association (AUA), Sociedad Argentina de Urología (SAU), and Confederación Americana de Urología (CAU).

Dr. Villoldo is involved in numerous Advisory Boards, where he advises scientific societies, patient groups, and the pharmaceutical industry. His expertise contributes to designing strategies to improve patient access to new drugs and clinical trials.

Dr. Villoldo is committed to continuous education, participating in various symposia and conferences related to urological oncology. Furthermore, he serves as the Director of the Uro-oncology and Minimally Invasive Surgery Fellow at the Alexander Fleming Institute, where he contributes to training future specialists in the field.

Dr. Villoldo is a recognized expert in his field and has demonstrated his dedication to providing care to his patients and promoting education and research within the medical community. His work has significantly impacted the fight against urothelial cancer and renal cancer in Latin America.
